President's Message

In Southeast Ohio, March came in like a lamb. Compared to the last few winters, this winter was rather mild. I know, I know, it depends on where one is geographically located to agree with that last sentence. There are people that look forward to the winter months and there are those who look forward to warmer temps. It depends on one's perspective.

I hope you're looking forward to traveling to Riverside Methodist Hospital (Columbus) for the spring OHSLA meeting. This meeting will be held on Friday, April 29. The CE class for this meeting will be "Grey Literature for Clinical Evidence". We are experimenting with a change for this meeting. The CE course will be 3 hours in length which will give us time for more discussions and networking. Please see Mary Pat Harnegie's article about the spring meeting for full details. Since the CE course will be hands-on, please bring your laptop or other mobile device for the class exercises.

In February, Stevo Roksandic, put out a call for volunteers for the OHSLA 2015 Survey Task Force. The charge was to review the data from the membership survey. Stevo is planning to report the findings at the spring meeting. I will be looking forward to this report.

Spring is also the time for our elections. If you have never run for office, please consider doing so. It is a great opportunity to meet new people, as well as learning how the association runs. We are looking for people who have never been involved in leadership. Through comments on the OHSLA membership survey, The Executive Committee has learned many of you would like to see officers from other areas of Ohio besides Columbus, Cincinnati, and Cleveland. This is a volunteer organization; it's up to you to run or nominate someone from other regions of the state. If the only thing holding you back is thinking you lack experience, push through your comfort zone and come forward.

My term as president is coming to a close, and I have to admit the time flew by. In hindsight, I am grateful for being asked to run for president-elect. I would have never met the people I did had I stayed comfortable.

I welcome spring, and look forward to seeing you in Columbus!

Fall Meeting Recap- Mary Pat Harnegie, President-Elect

The 10/30/15 fall meeting was held at the Dublin campus of Ohio University Heritage College of Osteopathic Medicine. The 4 hour CE program, Measuring What Matters to Stakeholders, was presented by Jacqueline Leskovec, MLIS, RN of the Greater Midwest Region- NNLM at University of Illinois- Chicago. Your survey responses found her to be knowledgeable, well prepared, an effective presenter and responsive to questions. Most responses indicated that this was a timely topic and supplied attendees with tools that they can use when they get back to their home institutions. The room we used at Dublin is a classroom of the future with pods and screen monitors. Many comments were favorable regarding the technology, but this set up did not contribute to a face-to-face learning environment.

We did some things well and not so well. The food was good. The interaction at tables was great. However, we did not do such a good job of welcoming our new members and making them feel welcome. We will correct that in the future. Other comments indicated that attendees would have liked a bit more networking time, to allow for either a panel discussion or round table format. A suggestion was to reduce the CE hours and allow for more networking time.

This suggestion dovetails with a recent survey result that suggested we take more time during the meeting to allow for networking. The plans for the April Spring meeting include just that- we are going to do a 3 CE hour presentation and allow at least 1-1.5 hours for a breakout/round table discussion on questions of interest to academic and hospital librarians. We look forward to seeing you at the April 29, 2016 meeting at Riverside Hospital, Columbus.

Kathryn Carpenter, Professor and Associate University Librarian for the Health Sciences and Associate Dean Director, Greater Midwest Region, National Network of Libraries of Medicine Library of the Health Sciences University of Illinois at Chicago announced on April 1, 2016 that the University of Illinois at Chicago will no longer be a Regional Medical Library for the Greater Midwest Region. The 2016-2021 cooperative agreement for the GMR RML will go to the University of Iowa in Iowa City, Iowa. This agreement will start on May 1, 2016. As your Regional Advisory Council representative for the GMR, I encourage everyone in OHSLA to take this opportunity to thank and recognize the GMR staff in Chicago who have worked with and taught us so much over the years, traveling to many of our OHSLA meetings to update and instruct us. I have truly learned a lot from all of them, as well as enjoyed their friendship. Please look over the current staff list at <https://nmlm.gov/gmr/about/staff> and send your personal messages if you feel moved.

I will keep up on the new arrangements with the University of Iowa, and will hopefully have an update on this for the April 29 meeting. Please let me know if you have any questions.
