President's Message

Greetings OHSLA members! The spring meeting plans are well underway. You can read all of the details later in this issue of The Voice.

Many of you may have seen the email announcing the contest for our new OHSLA Logo. After much debate over the past few executive board meetings, and taking suggestions at the fall meeting, we decided that no one could have a better grasp of our profession than our own members. The logo contest features a $100 Amazon gift card award for the winning logo. All submissions should be submitted to mrbarefoot@ysu.edu as a PDF document by Friday April 5th. When designing your submission, please consider including elements that focus on our state of Ohio and that reflect on the many roles that health sciences librarians fill. Multiple submissions are welcome and all names will be removed before judging. The executive committee will make a decision at the summer executive transition meeting. I hope we will get to look at entries from all over the state!

I would also like to take time to mention the many office changes that have happened this year. After many years serving as our Archives chair, Catherine Collier, has decided to step down. We are truly thankful for all her beautiful pictures and her work maintaining the OHSLA files. Noreen Mulcahy from Mount Carmel has taken over her position, so look for her with a camera at the spring meeting! Kim Brady from the Cleveland Clinic Alumni Library has recently taken over as Communications Chair and you have probably already noticed some emails on the list-serv from her. Mary Pat Harnegie from South Pointe Hospital has also volunteered to take over as the Liaison to the Midwest Chapter/MLA and will be communicating with Midwest/MLA for us in the future.

I encourage all of you to consider running for one of the positions that Stacy Gall and the Nominations Committee are working to fill. The President-Elect, Treasurer, and RAC Representative are all excellent ways to get involved with our organization. I also encourage you to contact any of the chairs of our committees if you have a particular interest area that you would like to help with.

Good luck to all in the elections and with the logo contest! I'm excited for all the new developments we're expecting this year!

Introducing OHSLA's New Website: ohsla.info

If you haven't checked out the new OHSLA website, please be sure to visit it soon. It is not just a website! It is really a membership management package, complete with the ability to register for events, join the organization, pay dues and fees online with a credit card, and keep up with the business of OHSLA all from one site. Not all of the functionality is up and running just yet, so don't be surprised if you try to do something and it doesn't work! This project is definitely a work in progress.

As your webmaster, I encourage you to send me suggestions for content, pictures, links, or whatever you can think of that would be of interest to the members of our organization. The website is only as good as you all help make it.

Please note that OHSLA has a new domain name - ohsla.info. In April the old domain name - ohslanet.org will expire and the old site will no longer be accessible. For those concerned historians and archivists out there, a copy of the old website has been saved on a flash drive and will be sent to OHSLA's archive collection.

If any member is willing to volunteer to be a "webmaster" in training or if someone is already familiar with the Wild Apricot website software product, I would welcome your assistance.

Bette Sydelko
OHSLA Webmaster

OHSLA Elections: Reminder to Vote!

Please vote in the upcoming ELECTION!

The Nominating and Elections Committee is hard at work compiling a slate of candidates for this year's OHSLA election. A very special thanks goes out to those who agreed to run. Thanks also to those who volunteered to serve on the Nominating and Elections Committee - Chair, Stacy Gall, and members, Debi Orr from the Alden Library at Ohio University and Marlene Derrick from Mercy Medical Center in Canton.

If you are a current member of OHSLA, you will receive an email directing you to "click on the link" and you will begin the voting process. Note: if you are reading this newsletter, you want to vote, but you don't receive an email, that means you are likely not a current member!

The GMR Corner- submitted by Holly Ann Burt, MLIS, NN/LM-GMR, Outreach and Exhibits Coordinator, Ohio State Contact

First, we welcome our new Technology Coordinator, Tiffany Tawzer. Tiffany is a recent graduate of the Simmons College Graduate School of Library and Information Science. For the past five-plus years (and during graduate school) she worked in a variety of positions at the Hirsh Health Sciences Library at Tufts University in Boston. During her tenure at Tufts, Tiffany served as the Reserves Manager and chaired the Facebook team for the library. One of her greatest achievements was teaching herself Microsoft Access in order to build an Access database to track and manage reserve requests. Tiffany loves learning about new and emerging technologies and looks forward to sharing her expertise and enthusiasm with Network members. She will become the National Network of Libraries of Medicine Greater Midwest Regions (GMR) contact librarian for the states of Wisconsin and Indiana.

There is a lot happening at the GMR. We continue to offer in-person and online classes - keep an eye on the OHSLA email list for updates. Registration for our online classes, including the monthly Lake Effects webinar, is at: <http://tinyurl.com/gmrregistration>. Our GMR Update at <http://nmlm.gov/gmr/about/gmrupdate.html> includes classes, exhibits, and funding information. FYI: the GMR will be presenting classes at MLA in Boston and the Midwest/MLA Chapter meeting in Peoria, IL.

Speaking of funding, the GMR has announced the availability of subcontracts and awards for the next contract year (May 1, 2013 - April 30, 2014). The link to our funding page is: <http://nmlm.gov/gmr/funding/>. We will again be offering one Major Outreach subcontract for $25,000 and three Target Outreach subcontracts for $15,000 each. The submission deadline for these subcontracts is March 22, 2013.

In addition, we are again offering awards for smaller amounts; the first submission deadline for these awards is April 5, 2013. These awards include: Community Preparedness ($2,000), Exhibit ($1,500), Outreach Express ($4,500), Planning and Assessment ($2,500), and Technology Awareness ($4,500). Also, congratulations to the sites in Ohio which the GMR is funding for the MLA Spring Webcast (Mount Carmel Health Sciences Library and Akron-Summit County Public Library); we only wish we could fund everyone interested in broadcasting these fascinating programs.

As your state contact librarian, please email me with any questions about the GMR or the National Library of Medicine. I'm here to support you and your libraries in any way I can.

As librarians leave their library offices to reach out to clinicians in their environment, there is an increasing need to know how to communicate with clinicians (physicians, nurses, and other healthcare professionals) in a manner that is professional but also adapts to the unique environment of the hospital floor or office setting. In this course participants will learn about common techniques utilized currently by the instructor in communicating and providing information at the point of care. In addition participants will learn about non-verbal cues in assessing the environment. Participants will listen and identify information needs from actual clinical rounds and review several articles and write a clinical review/summary.
