MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Michelle Kraft

Even though it is cold and there is snow on the ground, spring is just around the corner. This year's spring CE "Health Literacy: Start Spreading the News," is on April 4 at the Medical Heritage Center in the Prior Health Sciences Library at The Ohio State University, Columbus. The workshop will focus on an overview of low health literacy issues and implications, barriers commonly encountered, strategies to promote health literacy, criteria for the selection or development of health materials and other issues in health literacy.

The course will be taught by Janet Petty MLS, AHIP and Sandy Cornett, PhD. Janet is the associate librarian for patient and family education/reference services at Craig Memorial Library, Miami Valley Hospital, Dayton. She oversees the development, revision and distribution of all approved patient education materials at the hospital. Janet has also developed a patient and family education website through which over 100,000 patient education brochures were distributed. She has been an advocate for health literacy since 2001. She has developed and given numerous presentations to over 2,000 health care professionals.

Sandy Cornett, PhD. is the program manager of consumer health education at The Ohio State University Medical Center and is responsible for implementing a coordinated, comprehensive patient health education plan across the health system. Under her direction over 3,000 patient education titles written below the eighth grade reading level have been placed on the medical center's intranet and internet. She established a Center for Health Information which includes low literacy and foreign language materials among the items available to patients, families, staff and the general public.

Fall Meeting Summarized

Submitted by Marlene Porter, President Elect

The fall 2007 meeting was held Friday, October 19 at South Pointe Hospital, Warrensville Heights. Registration and continental breakfast preceded the 4.0 MLA CE credits course: Patient Safety Resource Seminar: Librarians on the Front Lines. Holly Burt, Outreach and Exhibits Coordinator for the NN/LM Greater Midwest Region presented the class to twenty one attendees. There were nineteen current members. Two people joined as new or renewing members.

The continental breakfast was courtesy of the South Pointe Hospital library. Lunch from Food for Thought cost $381.71. The menu was sandwich wraps, two vegetable salads, one fruit salad, chips, brownies, soft drinks and bottled water. It was suggested that more diet drinks be ordered next time.

Bylaws Addition Proposed

Submitted by the executive committee, Carol Powell, Secretary

At the spring business meeting members will vote on the proposed addition to the bylaws.

Article V, Section 4, Part E

PART E. MIDWEST CHAPTER STATE LIASON COMMITTEE REPRESENTATIVE.

The Representative shall be appointed by the President and shall serve as liaison between OHSLA and the Chapter Council. This person shall serve as a conduit for communication between the chapter and the Association, local library groups, and library science educational programs in the State of Ohio.

Hospital Library Advocacy Committee Reports

Submitted by Marlene Derrick, Chair

The OHSLA hospital library advocacy committee is continuing its efforts to advocate for Ohio hospital libraries. The current project is the OHSLA Hospital Administrator of the Year Award. Information on the award and how to nominate an administrator is coming soon to the new Advocacy section on the OHSLA web site. The brochure, "Medical Librarians Raise the Hospital Bottom Line" and resource links will be included in the section.

The committee is looking forward to working with the Ohio State Medical Association this year at OSMA CME site survey visits. The new "Checklist for Surveying Library Resources" will be used by surveyors at hospitals with libraries.

Anyone interested in serving on the committee should contact Marlene.Derrick@csauh.com

Lake Hospital System Is Pilot Site

Submitted by Holly Kimborowicz, Health Science Librarian, Lake Hospital System

Lake Hospital System, located in Painesville and Willoughby, was selected to be a pilot training site for the Medical Library Association's Health Information Literacy Research Project, under a contract with NIH/National Library of Medicine. The system is one of nine hospital libraries selected from twenty three applications from fifteen states. The libraries will pilot a new Health Information Literacy (HIL) curriculum designed to increase health care provider knowledge of health information literacy issues, increase patient and provider use of NLM and other consumer resources, and promote the role of librarians as key providers of HIL resources and support. Health information literacy has been identified by the Institute of Medicine and the Joint Commission as a patient safety issue.

Sign Up For Free CE

Submitted by Michelle Kraft, President

How often is there an opportunity to take a free MLA class and earn eight hours of CE credit? MLA's social networking task force, in partnership with the NPC Geek Squad is hosting the free online CE course, "Web 2.0 101: introduction to Second Generation Web Tools." This course is open to MLA members. Participants will have the opportunity to learn hands on about blogs, RSS, wikis, social networking, social bookmarking and tagging, web office tools, photo sharing, online hosted video, and mashups.

No prior knowledge of these technologies is required. The instructional level is for beginner and intermediate users of 2.0 applications. It will run March 10-May 4, 2008 leading up to MLA '08. Depending on the participants' beginning skill level, the eight week session will require one or two hours per week of time spent reading and in activities.

Register before March 9. Participants will automatically be signed up for an email discussion list for the course. Access to a computer with unrestricted internet access is required. If you work within a restricted network, consider taking the course from home.

For more information and to register, visit the members only area. Your MLA ID/username and MLANET password is needed.
